* INDEPENDENT EVALUATIONS ARE CONDUCTED FOR A LARGE MAJORITY OF GRANT MAKING PROGRAMS OF THE COLORADO TRUST TO HELP IDENTIFY WHERE THE TRUST AND GRANTEE SHOULD ADJUST STRATEGIES AS WELL AS DETERMINE EFFECTIVENESS OF DIFFERENT STRATEGIES AND TO HELP SHAPE FUTURE PROGRAMS BY IDENTIFYING EMERGING NEEDS WITHIN COLORADO. THE RESULTS OF THESE EVALUATIONS ARE WIDELY COMMUNICATED TO GRANTEE AND TO OTHER FOUNDATIONS NATIONALLY SO THEY CAN BENEFIT FROM LESSONS LEARNED BY THE TRUST. ALTHOUGH THESE EXPENSES ARE CLASSIFIED AS "OPERATING AND ADMINISTRATIVE" FOR TAX PURPOSES THEY ARE AN ESSENTIAL COMPONENT OF RESPONSIBLE GRANT-MAKING.

 PROGRAM RELATED CONSULTANTS ARE RETAINED FOR MOST GRANT STRATEGIES. THESE CONSULTANTS PROVIDE ESSENTIAL SERVICE IN THE FORM OF TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE TO BOTH GRANTEE AND STAFF. THEY ARE ALSO RETAINED TO ADVANCE PROGRAMMATIC EFFORTS IN A HIGHLY ACCOUNTABLE WAY. ALTHOUGH THESE EXPENSES ARE CLASSIFIED AS "OPERATING & ADMINISTRATIVE" FOR TAX PURPOSES, THEY ARE AN ESSENTIAL COMPONENT OF RESPONSIBLE GRANT MAKING.

Rocky Mountain Immigrant Advocacy Network 3489 West 72nd Avenue Suite 211 Westminster, CO 80030	Immigrants often do not have equal access to justice. Even children and those in immigration detention are not entitled to court-appointed counsel. This organization recruits volunteer attorneys to work on cases to provide free, legal representation to help them navigate through the justice system.	PC	$15,000.00	$0.00
Family Resource Center 120 Main Street Sterling, CO 80751-4342	This Family Resource Center serves the largely rural community of Sterling, Colorado. Because of two failed bond issues, the public schools now meet only four days each week. This has created difficulties for many families for supervision of their young children. The Family Resource Center partnered with a local church to offer an enrichment day for children kindergarten through fifth grade each Monday. There are activities, recreation, music, arts, and a hot lunch. The Center helps ensure that young children are not deprived of learning and socialization opportunities.	PC	$15,000.00	$0.00

YouthPower365 PO Box 6550 Avon, CO 81620	YouthPower365 is hosting the inaugural PwrHrs Extended Learning Conference in Beaver Creek, Colorado on November 7-9, 2018 with a goal to help increase the prevalence of quality, beyond-school-hours educational opportunities for children, youth, and families everywhere — especially those from rural communities, where poverty is often high and resources scarce. With guiding principles of collaboration and co-creation, the Conference will bring together educators, out-of-school practitioners, funders, policy-makers, and youth. The PwrHrs Extended Learning model will then be used as a launching point for participants to share implementation methods, highlight public-private partnerships, and encourage effective advocacy at a local, state, and national level. The conference is endorsed by both the National Afterschool Association and the Afterschool Alliance, and sponsored by Swift Communications. Each of these partner organizations is working with us to draw cross-sector participants from across the country. The Grove Consultants International will facilitate professional and youth participants in graphically recorded workshops to share experiences, ideas and problem-solving strategies around the future of extended learning. Participants will all contribute to creating a “road map” tool to support their work back to their in-home communities. COMMUNITY CLINICS AT MEMORIAL REGIONAL HEALTH 750 Hospital Loop Craig, CO 81625	In May 2018, Community Clinics at Memorial Regional Health (CCMRH) merged with Advocates-Crisis Support Services (ACSS), the sole provider of domestic violence, sexual assault, and crime victim advocacy in Moffat County. Now working in unison, CCMRH is seeking to prop up the Advocates program's annual Domestic Violence Awareness Month events. Each October in recent years, ACSS has hosted a series of events as part of its "No More" campaign, including: a balloon release to honor victims of domestic violence; a proclamation from Moffat County Commissioners to designate October as Domestic Violence Month, with a local speaker; a purple wheel planting to honor victims of domestic violence; and a final purple festival and race against domestic violence. In 2018, CCMRH and the Advocates staff will start the month-long festivities with a balloon release; continue with a formal proclamation for Domestic Violence Month and a local speaker, as well as a purple wheel planting to honor victims; and conclude with a fundraiser on October 20. This final event, "Walk in Her Shoes," will feature food, prizes, a costume contest, and a race for local male business leaders and politicians while wearing high heels. All events will be open to the public, and all local survivors of domestic violence and their families will be encouraged to attend.		$500.00	$0.00

Atlas Preparatory School 1602 South Murray Blvd. Colorado Springs, CO 80916	Stock the Shelves is Atlas' annual fundraiser and book drive. Each year, Atlas provides each middle school student with their very own copy of novels studied in their English language arts classes. This costs over $15,000 annually. In addition to in-course reading, each student is required to read 1.2 million words per school year. Funds raised and books donated through Stock the Shelves help supplement Atlas' budget for book purchases to support books read in class as well as books to stock the shelves of Atlas' libraries for independent student reading.		$1,500.00	$0.00
	In a scholarly article written by Dr. Erin Marcus, illiteracy was referred to as a "silent epidemic" and was shown to have damaging ripple effects on health. Literacy also affects one's ability to feel successful in school as well as how well one engages with their community. Atlas' keen focus on reading and language skills development through books allows each child to touch and feel the words. They can annotate in their very own book which fosters a love of reading. POUDRE RIVER FRIENDS OF THE LIBRARY 301 E Olive St Fort Collins, CO 80524	Día de Muertos is a Mexican holiday celebrated throughout Mexico, in particular the Central and South regions, and by people of Mexican heritage elsewhere. The multi-day holiday focuses on gatherings of family and friends to pray for and remember friends and family members who have died, and help support their spiritual journey. In 2008, the tradition was inscribed in the Representative List of the Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity by UNESCO. In Fort Collins peoples from the Latinx culture gathered each year to honor those memebms of their families that have passed and to celebrated this traditional celebration. Although the origin of the celebration is from indigenous tribes from Mexico, Latinx families from many different countries in Larimer County come to participate of this celebration. The event has a literacy component to showcase and celebrate Latinx children's literature work, an educational component, where all the aspect of the celebration is explained and honored, and a community engagement component, where families from the community create their altars for their family members.		$1,000.00	$0.00

Aside from food distribution, this event will also serve as an awareness and recruitment drive for a community garden project in the neighborhood, which is being facilitated by NeighborWorks Southern Colorado. Other partners involved in the project include Pillars of Unity, Pueblo City-County Library District, Risley Middle School, neighborhood churches, and the City of Pueblo. Through this event, we aim to gain community interest and buy-in from residents and local businesses to leverage the seed-grant already secured via NeighborWorks. Our organization has received volunteer commitments from local high school students and from individuals associated with the previously mentioned organizations.		$3,000.00	$0.00

Northwest Colorado Center for Independence 1306 Lincoln Avenue Suite A Steamboat Springs, CO 80477	The NorthWest Colorado Center for Independence (NWCCI) supports people with disabilities to access tools, resources and opportunities for achieving better quality of life in their communities. NWCCI provides consumer-driven, person-centered services as we work with people to set goals and develop action plans with next steps identified over a timeline. They work with people in a manner that fosters the development of skills for living more independently and engaging in self-advocacy. Those they serve are offered the opportunity to take advantage of support from peers who encourage and assist with the coordination of services related to overall health and well-being. Individual goals include areas such as transportation, housing, employment, nutrition, hygiene, benefits access and navigation, access to and use of assistive technology and adaptive equipment, personal assistance services and social/recreational opportunities. Their consumers work with us to achieve goals for freedom from isolation that afford opportunities for civic engagement and contribution to community. The advantage of working with people to develop these skills is those they serve are more engaged and aware of how to navigate systems through the exercise of choosing and directing supports and services. This is of particular significance in the area of health equity. They use a strengths based model instead of a deficit based approach to assisting those they serve. On a systems-change level they provide opportunities and support for those with whom they work to have a voice at the tables where decisions	PC	$4,000.00	$4,000.00

Dawn Howard at the Colorado Cross Disability Coalition (CCDC) 2. Describe your organization: Southwest Center for Independence is an organization of people with disabilities that provides supports and training for our disability and aging communities to live the lives they want in Southwest Colorado. We serve the five rural counties in Southwest Colorado where 14.6 people live per square mile. We envision a world where people with disabilities and elders are respected included members of their communities, making their own decisions, directing the supports and services they need to live well in the community, and giving back to the community from their strengths. Every service we offer is geared toward teaching people to say it and do it for themselves. 3. What is the one thing you want the HEA Cohort to know about you? As a certified Center for Independent Living (CIL), the bulk of what we do is about health equity and the social determinants of health. 4. Great Ed’s has a vision where all Colorado children — regardless of where they live or how they learn — graduate prepared to lead their best lives.	Started as a volunteer initiative in 1994, our original mission was to provide opportunities for youth charged with delinquency to meet with those impacted by their offense, to repair harm and “make things right.” Services include providing advocacy to populations that are over-represented in those youth charged. While victim-offender dialogue remains central to Center for Restorative Program’s work, our programs now include a broad array of prevention and intervention services for youth, adults, families, and schools. Populations served most often include those struggling with poverty and access to needed services. All are grounded in the Restorative Justice Principles of dialogue, accountability, and reconciliation and are designed to bring positive “new endings to old stories.”	PC	$5,000.00	$5,000.00

Young African Americans for Social & Political Activism PO BOX 202092 Denver, CO 80220	YAASPA was established in 2010 based upon my husband, co-founder, and my academic and career experiences. As a Colorado native and an African American social scientist, I have come to learn about the challenges youth face in navigating their academic and career development in the social sciences amidst the Colorado Paradox. The Colorado Paradox is the phenomena that only 25% of 9th graders will earn a college degree and many are in need of remediation. In light of this, there have been career pathways created in order to build youth's self-efficacy in business, fine arts, health sciences, and science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM). Many of the decisions to create these career pathways have been from a top-down approach and simply based upon the labor market. Consequently, there have been few endeavors to cultivate the self-efficacy for youth who desire to pursue a social justice career. Hence, to pursue degrees and careers in the social sciences. This is a gap that YAASPA mitigates via community organizing, advocacy and our programs which are: a course entitled civic engagement in community and career, scholarship fairs, social sciences and policy institutes and a new partnership with Community College of Aurora to award students a two-year scholarship who are interested in pursuing social science degrees. YAASPA also partners with organizations collaboratively to facilitate education advocacy to increase social equity. With the YAASPA experience, youth are cultivated to:	PC	$10,000.00	$10,000.00

Cultivando! PO Box 29247 Thornton, CO 80229	Cultivando is a leadership, advocacy and capacity building organization that works in collaboration with Latino community leaders and organizational partners to strategically advance health equity in Adams County and the state of Colorado. Our work is built on a foundation of our organizational values of community-led work, social justice, and collaborative leadership. All of our trainings and capacity building is done in Spanish, with a focus on supporting first generation Latino immigrants to understand how Colorado systems work in order to impact positive change towards equity, inclusion, and justice. Our work is built on a foundation of the Promotora Model, the understanding that community members hold the knowledge, skills, and solutions to create needed change, and natural and trusted leaders exist and should be supported and heard. We believe that organizations should be working to put resources directly in the hands of communities, and organizations and systems need a whole lot of support in listening and learning directly from impacted community members. Our programs include: training and supporting emerging Promotoras, capacity building around early childhood education (recognizing that most CO children are cared for by unlicensed and often undocumented FFN providers and that those children, families, and providers do not receive	PC	$2,500.00 $2,500.00	$2,500.00 $2,500.00

Mudra Dance Studio was incorporated as a Colorado Non-Profit Corporation in March 2002 and was granted Tax -Exempt Organization status under IRS 501(c) (3) in July 2003. Over the years, MDS has had an increase in the number of students, teachers, and classes for different age groups: from the tender age of 3 to the mature age of 60 plus; and an increase in locations of these classes. MDS primarily teaches the classical dance form of "KATHAK" which is derived from the word "KATHA"; meaning story telling. "KATHAK" is a beautiful blend of the 2 primary elements of dance: "ABHINAY": the communication of emotions through facial expression; and "NATYA": the rhythmic movement of the body and feet with a beautiful combination of multiple rhythmic CHAKAARS (turns or twirls). The CHAKAARS are in multiples of 3 and 9. KATHAK is one of the 7 well known classical dance forms of India, which trace back to 6000 BC and over the years have metamorphosed by cultural and geographical influences. MDS also teaches folk dances from different regions of India & contemporary Indian dance, now classified as "MUDRA STYLE" as part of its curriculum. "MUDRA" is defined as the different gestures of your hands that communicate the story.	PC	$5,000.00	$5,000.00

Our organization wishes to work with our communities and stand as a leader in our local Colorado area, and beyond, for establishing partnerships with groups who specifically tailor their resources, education and outreach to youth and young LGBTQI community. Youth Seen strives to highlight the intersections that many communities of color face when addressing social issues that impact families that identify under the umbrella of LGBTQI. This also includes our community members identify as gender non-conforming, non-binary, genderfluid, genderqueer and two spirit, which is often left out of the mainstream language around services.	Given the current political climate, Youth Seen acknowledges the need for our vision to be a living framework which can and will be updated based on the needs of the community. Experiences during this time determine health, education and economic prospects throughout life. Early Childhood Development (ECD) interventions (including parenting and caregiver support, child care, nutrition, education, and social protection) yield benefits throughout life that are worth many times the original investment." Little APES is a comprehensive early childhood center on the northern end of Chaffee County that offers paid preschool, Head Start, Early Head Start, Parents as Teachers and other services such as helping parents apply for Medicaid. "Our preschool offers high quality education that is appropriate for the development of young children from 2 to 6 years of age. While the program operates from multiple funding sources, every child participates in the same preschool education opportunities. Our research-based curriculum allows for individualizing to meet the unique academic and social needs of each child."	PC	$3,000.00	$0.00

Their patient population includes many Coloradans who routinely face health inequities: According to PPRM, the average patient they serve is female (of course), lives in poverty and has an associates degree or less in educational attainment. There are well-established links between income or education level and health outcomes.	PC	$3,000.00	$0.00
Since ACA implementation, PPRM saw an 85% increase in Medicaid patients, a 25% increase in patients paying with private insurance and a 38% decrease in those paying out of pocket. Yet the ACA and other PPRM funding mechanisms are increasingly under assault at the federal level. In May 2017, PPRM was forced to close two of its Colorado health centers, in Parker and Longmont, further curtailing health care access for women. PPRM attributed these closures to the "shifting health care landscape nationally."	PPRM funding continues to come under assault at the federal level, threatening the health and well-being of numerous women in Colorado and around the country.

The building is 116 years old and needs major safety improvements and aesthetic modernization. The planned renovation will include a small neighborhood grocery store in a designated food desert and above the store, there will be affordable housing units. Not only will this address food insecurity and affordable housing but it will also incite beneficial economic activity.	PC	$3,000.00	$0.00
Denver Public Schools 1651 S. Dahlia St Denver, CO 80222	Education is a major social determinant of health. And Ellis Elementary School provides high-quality education to students who are mostly children of color and mostly low-income. Around 83 percent of Ellis Elementary’s students receive free or reduced lunches. Around 49 percent are English language learners. The principal at Ellis sees the students’ cultural diversity as one of the school’s strengths, and works to actively support it. Many of the teachers are fluent in Spanish or Arabic. In the Spanish-language classrooms, the transition to English isn’t rushed--and takes longer than is required by district regulations--so that children are supported and can learn in their home language. The school receives high marks from the district on student growth measures. This school is being hurt by gentrification, as many of the new, white, higher-income families who are moving into the area are choosing into majority-white schools. As the school is losing funding, support from The Trust can help support its proposed move to being a two-way bilingual school, so that native English speakers can learn Spanish while Spanish speakers learn English.	PC	$3,000.00	$0.00

CCW works to protect public health by promoting environmental justice. CCW views the environment as people: where we live, work, play, and learn. CCW views environmental justice as a convergence of civil rights, environmentalism, and public health. Environmental justice is multicultural and multiethnic, it is grassroots, and it increases links to global struggles. Therefore, CCW is focused on social justice and pollution prevention in order to reduce cumulative health impacts from the built, social, political, and natural environment as can be seen in the picture titled, "Disparate Health Impacts from Environmental Cumulative Impacts." The group who most faces health inequity is the predominantly Hispanic and low income community. Update from 2018 Since 2010, CCW has presented across Colorado on environmental justice issues, organized community forums to bring people together around renewable energy, hydraulic fracturing, youth engagement, illegal dumping, recycling, school and community gardens, and the permanent protection of public lands. Forensic assessments are comprehensive evaluations that capture the trauma, adversity and mental health status of migrants seeking asylum in order to escape war and political unrest. In 540 evaluations that took place up until early 2017, 90% of cases were granted asylum, as compared with 48% in 2015, without use of forensic assessments. Those who are able to get these assessments are almost always represented by a lawyer- in essence, having these assessments greatly increases the chances that an immigrant family will be granted asylum and kept together. Children's Early Learning Center Inc. 1304 San Juan Avenue Alamosa, CO 81101	From Colorado Children's Campaign: "A child's most critical developmental and learning experiences begin at birth and occur in partnership with parents and caregivers. The quality of a child's early experiences lays either a strong or a shaky foundation for all that follows. In Colorado, there are only enough licensed child care services for about 45 percent of the 256,000 kids birth to age six with working parents. In addition, in 2014 Colorado ranked as the fifth-least affordable state for center-based infant care and for center-based care for a four-year-old. Without strong federal and state support for quality early experiences, many working families struggle to find affordable child care. This can put our most vulnerable children further at risk and creates significant barriers for low-income parents to maintain employment."
